

AmericanEmergencyManagement.org

Ukraine Disaster Relief Launches Rescue Teams for Women and Children Fleeing

Ukraine For Immediate Release

Los Angeles, Calif. (March 10, 2022) – American Emergency Management, “AEM”, establishes operations command centers and social service operational plans in countries neighboring Ukraine. By cooperating with local government-officials, non-governmental organizations, and local volunteers, AEM brings long-term sustainable humanitarian aid into the crisis zone and offers regional social services for refugees. Efforts are focused on saving the lives of Ukrainian women and children fleeing the country. The response team in Ukraine is currently providing the first round of humanitarian assistance.

The AEM team is led by experienced global CEO James Rice, “Through oversight of logistical access and rescue teams working in Ukraine, we are bringing critical hospital supplies, medicine, and communications technology in,” James Rice said, “and we’re ensuring that this life saving support reaches its destination in the war zone because we have boots on the ground.”

AEM is working in concert with an array of organizations including Abolish Slavery Coalition and its global partners to provide life-saving support. By giving humanitarian relief in collaboration with the European Parliament and the Ukrainian government, we coordinate multiple agencies, provide transportation and access for health care professionals to deliver essential items necessary for human survival.

To learn more about American Emergency Management or make a donation, visit www.AmericanEmergencyManagement.org

Abolish Slavery Coalition is a human rights organization dedicated to rescuing persecuted people from positions of vulnerability, assisting them on the road to recovery, and providing after care for the survivors and their families’ long term. www.abolishslavery.org

American Emergency Management coordinates with local, national, and international jurisdictions, identifies their needs and provides real time solutions. We deliver lifesaving aid and relief, as well as assist other organizations with access to the disaster zone with our joint operations command centers to act as bases for operations. www.AmericanEmergencyManagement.org

###

Media Contact info@americanemergencymanagement.org